

Swine Flu Vaccination

The Department of Health has announced that it is intended to vaccinate people against the H1N1 strain of swine flu. The precise details have not been advised to us but the information we do have is as follows:

We have been advised that delivery of the vaccination will be on the 13th November and subject to that delivery letters will go out to patients in the high risk categories that evening.

Key workers, at risk and vulnerable patients will be vaccinated first.

Once we can have more details we will advise you all of our plans commence this vaccination programme.
